OF INTEREST

Antiques Owned by Albert Whitford—Providing Water For Wilcox Park Lake—David Helm's Funeral.

Two matters of general state interest will come up for consideration at the special session of the general assembly which convenes next Tuesday, August 16th, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, in Westery. The first matter to be considered is the bill to amend the constitution to increase the debt limit so that the town of Westery can legally hire a sum of money sufficient to change the grade of Union street.

The extra session of the general assembly was specially called to take action on the report of the commission on redistricting the state for the election of members to a new lower house of one hundred members, according to the constitutional amendment, and by which Westery gets an additional representative. The plan of the commissioners will not be without trouble and it is probable that the legislature will not adjourn until that matter is settled.

The schedule of taxation measures prepared by the state special tax commission will rank second in the matter of importance, and it is probable that the legislature will give consideration to other measures of special local importance. It is believed in Westery that there is no liability of adjournment until after the meeting of Westery in the fall, and should the people vote in favor of the Union street project it is thought sure that the matter will require the required legislative approval. There is opposition to the measure locally, mainly for personal reasons, and it is believed that the object of fixing the date of the meeting for one week after the assembling of the legislature was with the expectation that the special session would be adjourned prior to that time, and thereby prevent raising the money by an increase in the tax limit. Had that plan carried, the only other way would be by direct special tax, for the largest estimate of the cost of improvement. This plan would probably not be favored by all the supporters of the project and is considered by them as another form of attack on the movement to cut down Cooley Hill.

Not since the days of the "waterworks fight" has any public matter met with such determined opposition. Albert Whitford, a local collector of antiques, is the owner of a mahogany bureau of four drawers, with glass tops and two smaller drawers on the table part of the ancient piece of furniture. It is highly prized from the fact that it was once owned by Daniel Webster and was a part of his household effects. The identification is complete by an affidavit attested to one of the drawers, which reads as follows:

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I formerly owned the old mahogany bureau to which this certificate is attached and that it came to me from my husband, Charles G. Cook, who had owned it for a long time, and who received it from his father, William Cook, who at one time was coachman for Daniel Webster and to whom Daniel Webster gave the bureau as a present, it having been in use before that time in Mr. Webster's family.

Dated Norwich, Conn., Feb. 10, 1905.
The affidavit was made before Lucius Brown, notary public.

Mr. Whitford has also a pestle and mortar of lignum vitae, first used for crushing corn nearly two hundred years ago. Some of the present residents of Westery have eaten johnny-cakes the meal for which was made in this ancient corn grinder.

Among Mr. Whitford's collection is what is termed a 1000-legged table, a mahogany sideboard with nine drawers and is topped with corded headboard, Chippendale chairs, solid mahogany table inlaid with brass. He has also a very rare Sheffield plate tray, or serving table by three feet, in perfect condition, and elaborately engraved by hand. In the collection is an old time courting mirror into which the lover gazed and admired themselves and each other.

other. Mr. Whitford's collection includes many articles of artistic merit that are rare and valuable.

The water-filled quarry hole at the New England Granite works, abandoned years ago, and which gradually filled with water, with natural inlet and outlet that kept the immense quarry hole at an even height of water for years, and the supply for which is considered inexhaustible, is the source of supply of water for the artificial lake. When the pipe line was laid about two years ago the entrance pipe was placed in a pit at what was considered a sufficient distance below the surface of the water and the pipe laid to the lake at a grade that gave the supply by gravitation, with shut-off gates to prevent overflow or waste at the lake.

Some months ago an appreciable fall in the water level of the lake was noticed in the quarry hole and this falling gradually became greater until the water was below the entrance pipe and in consequence the supply of water for the lake was not forthcoming. To overcome this difficulty a line of hose was connected with the water service and a continuous stream was poured into the lake.

Although the volume of the water in the quarry hole had lowered ten feet, there is still an ample supply for lake purposes, and with the constant and natural feed of water from the lake there is no danger of the Wilcox park lake ever going dry.

It became necessary, however, to make a change in the quarry hole, as the natural flowage surface became inadequate. The Westery Light and Power company has connected a rotary pump connected direct with a five horse power electric motor and in this way the pit is kept filled with water which is carried to the park lake by gravitation.

The pump was tested for the first time Thursday afternoon and worked satisfactorily and the water from the quarry hole came flowing into the lake just as well as when connection was first made. To change the entrance pipe to a lower grade and the rearrangement of the pipe line would be impracticable and it was decided to make the proper grade for easy and sure gravitation.

The funeral of David Helm, who died in Memorial hospital Tuesday, was held Thursday afternoon at his residence in Pond street, Westery. The services were held by Rev. Mr. Dickinson. Many friends of the deceased were present and there were a number of beautiful floral tributes. Burial was in the Hopkinton cemetery. The bearers were George Bates, John Michael, Cornelius Hazard and William Sebastian.

Pitcher Pollequin of Southbridge, Mass., will be on the mound for Westery in the game with Mystic Wednesday night. The pitcher weighs 230 pounds, and has declined several offers to enter professional baseball. The only other non-resident on the Westery team will be Glennan at shortstop. The Mystic team will be strengthened by several players from New Haven.

Relief Corps' Picnic Invitations Out for Bindloss Family Reunion—Plans for Peace Meeting.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps enjoyed their annual picnic Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Cutler on West Mystic avenue. Thirty gathered and enjoyed the day. A chowder was served at 5 o'clock and a fine musical and literary program was rendered during the afternoon. Mrs. Cutler was assisted by Mrs. Fannie Parker, Mrs. Lucine Tufts, Mrs. Louise Lamb. Dinner was served at 1 p. m. and a poem was read by Mrs. A. E. Cutler. Mr. M. U. L. Coleman and Miss Bertha Coleman of Gloucester, Mass., are in town.

A real estate deal was put through Thursday when Mrs. Louise Russell of Old Mystic sold to Mr. and Mrs. John McNally her two houses on Denison avenue.

Bindloss Family Reunion.
Invitations have been received in town by the members of the Bindloss family to the reunion which is to take place at Riverside park, New London, on Saturday, August 27. Dinner will be served at 1 p. m. and supper at 5 p. m. T. P. Bindloss is president and D. P. Collins secretary.

Gone With Westery To-day.
The Mystic baseball team will go to Westery this afternoon and play ball. This is a game that was very popular in the town and it seemed the best time to play is to-day. The Mystic team will go with strong reinforcements and are expected to win. The game that was played last Saturday has been decided in favor of the Mystic team.

Village Societies.
The weaving department in the Mystic Manufacturing company have shut down for two weeks. Mrs. M. E. Brewster has returned to Norwich, where she will visit with Mrs. Isabella MacKenzie. William L. Main is seriously ill. William D. Smith of Boston is the guest of Walter Knight.

W. A. Sherman has returned to New Haven after visiting Ray Holmes. Mrs. Charles F. Quile and son Harold of Boston are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Tompkins of Mount Vernon, who are summering here, left yesterday to camp at Bushy Point.

Jack Crooks left yesterday for the White mountains, where he will spend several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Batty have returned from a two weeks' trip in Northville, Maine.

Music Peace Meetings.
The secretary of the Connecticut Peace society writes:
Peace meeting is at hand once again, the old-time soil is being turned over to new crops. Many are looking forward to this time in anticipation of being present. An old-fashioned rural was in the Hopkinton cemetery. The bearers were George Bates, John Michael, Cornelius Hazard and William Sebastian.

Will You Pay Life Insurance or Death Insurance—Which?
People willingly pay large sums for life insurance, which is really death insurance, but real life insurance frequently consists in taking necessary precautions for their own safety.

Can any "lung sick" person afford not to take the Alternative? Investigate it. Write this very day for letters, testimonials and affidavits showing that it really has CURED Tuberculosis, Consumption, Coughs and Colds, without curing. Eggs cost, say, 20 cents a dozen. Forced feeding with milk and eggs costs a day, $1.50 a week—quarts milk a day, at 5 cents, $1.50 costs over $5 a week.

Ekman's Alternative improves the appetite, makes life look different, brings better health with greater earning power. Often persons are so much improved that they can work even before they are finally cured.

Send today for literature on the subject. If you are broad minded enough to believe that there is a cure for lung trouble, you will not be sensationally exploited, or which is based merely on climatic or diet restrictions.

Ekman's Alternative is good for all. Write for literature on the subject. If you are broad minded enough to believe that there is a cure for lung trouble, you will not be sensationally exploited, or which is based merely on climatic or diet restrictions.

Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol
What is more, this efficient "Liquid Cleansing" accomplishes its mission at a minimum cost.

To be sure it has imitators. All good things have. Some substitutes can be bought for half the price, admitting this fact and admitting also that they may have some virtues, even under these conditions, they are more expensive in the end than the genuine.

Therefore when you buy the original you are getting the genuine and besides that it only costs one-fifth as much in the end as the imitations. Any reliable dealer will endorse these statements.
